

ASX: POU

Access the performance of the Pound on the ASX

The Betashares British Pound ETF (ASX: POU) provides investors with a cost-effective and convenient way to access the performance of the British Pound (GBP) relative to the Australian Dollar.

SIMPLE TO ACCESS

Access the performance of the GBP relative to the Australian Dollar, as simply as buying a share on the ASX. If the GBP goes up 10% against the A$, the Fund is designed to go up 10% too (before fees and expenses). Conversely, the Fund will go down if the GBP falls.

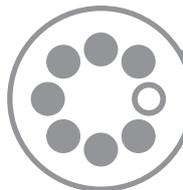

CONVENIENT

POU removes the need for investors to use complicated foreign currency trading platforms, trade CFDs, or open a foreign-currency bank account to get investment exposure.

COST-EFFECTIVE

The management fee for POU is only 0.45% p.a.¹ (or $45 for every $10,000 invested). For most investors, the total costs of ownership can be expected to be significantly cheaper than alternative ways to get exposure to the performance of the GBP.

DIVERSIFICATION FROM SHARES

Currencies have historically exhibited low correlation to the performance of shares, so POU can provide an attractive diversification opportunity, with the potential to help reduce overall portfolio risk.

The ETF's assets are invested in bank deposit accounts, denominated in the relevant currency. Any interest earned on the deposits accrues for the benefit of investors.

This structure allows Betashares to provide investors with access to foreign currency performance at exchange rates that would otherwise only be available to large wholesale investors.

Investment risks include foreign exchange rate risk, interest rates on the Fund's bank deposits are variable and credit risk generally associated with bank deposits. Investment in the Fund does not receive benefit of any government guarantee. For more information on risks and other features of the Fund, please see the Product Disclosure Statement.
