Fund returns are calculated in Australian dollars using net asset value per unit at the start and end of the specified period and do not reflect the brokerage or the bid ask spread that investors incur when buying and selling units on the ASX. Returns are after fund management costs, assume reinvestment of any distributions and do not take into account income tax. Returns for periods longer than one year are annualised. Investment Strategy

The Fund invests in a number of deposit accounts from selected banks in Australia. BetaShares will endeavour to ensure that the selected deposit accounts offer an interest rate that is attractive relative to rates being offered by major banks in Australia for similar accounts.

Benefits of BetaShares Australian High Interest Cash ETF

- ▶ Attractive interest rate – aims to achieve interest rates that are competitive with ‘at call’ bank deposits and term deposits without the need for investors to open a bank account or lock up capital for extended periods
- ▶ Monthly distributions – providing regular income
- ▶ High level of security – the Fund holds Australian dollars in bank deposit accounts with one or more selected banks regulated in Australia by APRA
- ▶ Capital stability – unlike bonds (or bond ETFs) capital value will not decline in a rising interest rate environment
- ▶ Liquidity – available to trade on the ASX like any share
- ▶ Transparent – current interest rate, value of the Fund’s assets and net asset value per unit available daily on our website
