

ASX: BEMG

29 August 2025

Objective

BEMG aims to track the performance of the MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index (before fees and expenses) that provides exposure to large and mid-cap stocks across 24 emerging market countries.

It is not the objective of the Fund to provide distributions to investors.

How the fund works

BEMG obtains its exposure to emerging markets companies by investing in the Amundi MSCI Emerging Markets II UCITS ETF, which provides investors with efficient exposure through total return swap agreements. This structure helps minimise deviations of the fund's returns from the index and enhances exposure to markets that are costly and complex to access directly.

Benefits

Strong growth potential

Emerging markets are driven by powerful demographic trends - including a rising middle class, urbanisation, and accelerating digital transformation - making them a key engine of future global growth.

Efficient, cost-effective exposure

BEMG is one of Australia's most cost-effective emerging markets ETFs, providing exposure to 1,000+ stocks across more than 20 emerging countries in fast-growing regions including Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe and Africa - markets that are typically difficult and costly to access directly.

Diversity beyond developed markets

Emerging markets tend to have distinct economic drivers, and have historically shown a lower correlation with developed markets such as the US and Europe. An allocation to BEMG can increase overall portfolio diversification and may reduce portfolio volatility.

Graph shows performance of the underlying index, and not the fund. It does not take into account fund fees and costs. Index performance based on reinvestment of income. Index inception date is 29 December 2000. You cannot invest directly in an index. Fund returns (where applicable) are calculated in A$ using net asset value per unit at the start and end of the specified period and do not reflect the brokerage or bid-ask spread that investors may incur when buying and selling units on the ASX. Returns are after fund management costs, assume reinvestment of any distributions and do not take into account income tax.

The product described herein are indexed to an MSCI index. The MSCI Emerging Markets Index captures large and mid-cap representation across 24 Emerging Markets (EM) countries. The index covers approximately 85% of the free float-adjusted market capitalisation in each country.
