Objective

RCKT aims to track the performance of an index (before fees and expenses) that includes leading companies in the global space economy.

Benefits

Pure-play exposure to the space economy

RCKT provides exposure to leading companies directly involved in the space industry - including space launches and transportation, space infrastructure and manufacturing, as well as satellite communications, connectivity and data services.

Fast-tracking next generation space companies

RCKT's index includes a fast-track feature that enables eligible newly listed companies to be added to the portfolio, usually two trading days post IPO. This gives investors timely exposure to some of the most anticipated listings in the space sector.

Invest in an industry with rapid growth potential

The global space economy is forecast to reach US$1.8 trillion by 2035<sup>1</sup>, as falling launch costs unlock new commercial opportunities across space transportation, satellite, and data services.

Graph shows performance of the underlying index, and not the fund. It does not take into account fund fees and costs. Index performance based on reinvestment of income. Index inception date is 5 February 2020. Index 'live' date is 22 April 2026. Index performance prior to 'live date' is back-tested by the index provider using the index methodology at 'live' date. You cannot invest directly in an index. Fund returns are calculated in A$ using net asset value per unit at the start and end of the specified period and do not reflect the brokerage or bid-ask spread that investors may incur when buying and selling units on the ASX. Returns are after fund management costs, assume reinvestment of any distributions and do not take into account income tax.

There are risks associated with an investment in RCKT, including space industry risk, small and medium sized companies risk, fast track risk, concentration risk and liquidity risk. Investment value can go up and down. The Fund's concentrated sector exposure can be expected to be more volatile than a broad global equity exposure. An investment in the Fund should only be considered as a part of a broader portfolio, taking into account your particular circumstances, including your tolerance for risk. For more information on risks and other features of the Fund, please see the Product Disclosure Statement and Target Market Determination, both available at www.betashares.com.au.
