

Betashares FTSE Global Infrastructure Shares Currency Hedged ETF

30 January 2026

Objective

TOLL aims to track the performance of an index (before fees and expenses) that provides exposure to infrastructure companies from developed countries, hedged into Australian dollars.

Benefits

Convenient, cost-effective exposure to global infrastructure

TOLL offers simple, low-cost access to a portfolio of global infrastructure companies from developed countries. 50% of the portfolio is invested in utilities, 30% in transportation companies and 20% in infrastructure REITs, energy pipelines and telecommunications.

Portfolio diversification

Infrastructure companies provide capital-intensive essential services that tend to be in consistent demand across the economic cycle. As a result, they typically enjoy strong market positions and pricing power, making them a useful portfolio building block. Low historical correlations with global equities mean an allocation to global infrastructure can also contribute to portfolio diversification.

Attractive, stable income

The companies that TOLL invests in tend to generate stable, long-term cash flows that are often linked to inflation. TOLL aims to generate attractive quarterly income, funded by the dividends paid by the companies in the portfolio.

Graph shows performance of the underlying index, and not the fund. It does not take into account fund fees and costs. Index performance based on reinvestment of income. Index inception date is 30 December 2005. Fund returns are calculated in A$ using net asset value per unit at the start and end of the specified period and do not reflect the brokerage or bid-ask spread that investors may incur when buying and selling units on the ASX. Returns are after fund management costs, assume reinvestment of any distributions and do not take into account income tax.
