Step 2 Conditions

Read how your personal information may be used:

Bendigo Super collects your personal information and the personal information of your beneficiary/ies to assess and administer your request. If you do not provide the information we ask for, we may be unable to do this. We treat your personal information as confidential and only disclose it to others where necessary. For example, we usually disclose your information to organisations to whom we outsource functions such as administrators, mailing and printing houses, to IT providers, to account holders and operators, and to your financial adviser. Some of these organisations may be located overseas. Your information may be disclosed to related companies within the Betashares Group, where its confidentiality is maintained at all times. We do not sell, rent or trade your personal information. You should also read our Privacy Policy which contains information about how you can gain access to and seek correction of your personal information, and how you can complain about a breach of the privacy laws by Bendigo Super and how we will deal with a complaint. Our Privacy Policy is available at www.betashares.com.au/privacy-policy

In the event of your death Bendigo Super may pay the following benefits as a lump sum or as a pension:

- the amount of your superannuation benefits in the Plan which will comprise your Member Account balance plus
- the proceeds of any Death insurance cover you have through the Plan.

There are rules that Bendigo Super will follow when paying your death benefit. These rules are described below.

If you want to direct Bendigo Super to pay your benefit to a particular person (called your beneficiary), then you can complete a Binding Death Benefit Nomination. A valid Binding Death Benefit Nomination means your death benefit will be paid to the beneficiary/ies that you nominate.

When you have nominated a beneficiary and the nomination is valid and current, it will be legally binding upon Bendigo Super and Bendigo Super must act in accordance with that nomination. Commonwealth Government Regulations have imposed strict conditions on how a binding death benefit nomination must be made, amended or revoked. Also, family law and a relationship breakdown can also affect your nomination as the nominated person may no longer be eligible to receive a superannuation death benefit. We recommend you speak to a licensed financial adviser if this may apply to you.

The following conditions apply to binding death benefit nominations of beneficiaries:

- (a) Nominations can only be accepted on a form which is approved by Bendigo Super. This form is an approved form.
- (b) An original signed copy of this form must be provided to Bendigo Super. An electronic version (fax or email) can be accepted.
- (c) Each beneficiary must be either your Legal Personal Representative (on behalf of your estate) or a dependant for superannuation purposes. Your Legal Personal Representative is the person or organisation you appoint as the executor of your Will, or who is appointed as the administrator of your estate if you die without a valid Will. If you nominate your Legal Personal Representative, then they will receive your death benefit on behalf of your estate. Currently, your dependants for superannuation purposes are:
 - (i) Your spouse which includes:
 - another person (whether of the same sex or a different sex) with whom the person is in a relationship that is registered under law; and
 - another person (whether of the same sex or a different sex) who, although not legally married to the person, lives with the person on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple.
 - (ii) Your child or children which includes:
 - an adopted child, a stepchild or an ex-nuptial child of the person; and
 - a child of the person's spouse; and
 - someone who is a child of the person within the meaning of the Family Law Act 1975.
 - (iii) A person with whom you had an "interdependency relationship" immediately before the date of your death. Under superannuation law, an "interdependency relationship" is defined as a close personal relationship between two people who reside together, where one of both provides the other with financial support, domestic support and personal care. Two people can also have an "interdependency relationship" under superannuation law where they have a close personal relationship, but don't live together or support one another because either of them has a physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability (this would include a person who, for example, lives in an institution). There are other circumstances in which an "interdependency relationship" can arise. This will be determined by Bendigo Super in accordance with the legislation.
 - (iv) Any other person who Bendigo Super in its discretion is wholly or partially financially dependent on you at the time of your death.
- (d) If any beneficiary nominated is not your Legal Personal Representative, spouse, child, financial dependant or a person with whom you had an interdependency relationship immediately before the date of your death, your nomination will not be valid. This may include situations where you divorce or leave a de facto relationship after making a nomination.
- (e) If you want to nominate more than four beneficiaries, you must complete and attach an additional form.
- (f) For each beneficiary, you must specify the proportion of your benefit they are to be paid. The total benefit must have been allocated by you on the form (or forms, if you have nominated more than four persons). Please note: if your allocation does not total 100% the entire nomination will be invalid.
- (g) The nomination must be signed by you and in the presence of two witnesses, both of whom must be at least 18 years of age and not nominated as beneficiaries.
- (h) The entitlements of any nominated beneficiary may be subject to family law legislation in relation to superannuation splitting arrangements.
- (i) You should consider revising your nomination whenever your personal circumstances change. This nomination may be amended or revoked at any time by submitting a new approved form.
- (j) A nomination will remain valid for a period of three years if no amendment or revocation is made by you during that period. You may confirm (renew) your nomination within this period by sending a signed, written notice to Bendigo Super. The nomination will be valid for an additional three years from the date of confirmation. If you amend your nomination, the amended nomination is valid for three years from the date the amendment is made.
- (k) Bendigo Super will contact you before the expiry date to give you the opportunity to renew your nomination. However, it is your responsibility to keep it up-to-date and to renew it every three years. If the nomination remains valid and is in effect at the time of your death, then Bendigo Super has no power to vary it.
- (l) Bendigo Super will remind you annually (via your annual member statement) of the details of your nomination and of its expiry date.
- (m) If you do not nominate a beneficiary or your nomination is invalid (including if it is unclear or defective) or your nomination is not renewed or is revoked before its expiry date, Bendigo Super will consider that no nomination applies. Any benefit payable on death will be paid to your Legal Personal Representative on behalf of your estate as a lump sum payment.
- (n) If your Legal Personal Representative cannot be found, then Bendigo Super may pay your benefit to your dependants, or, if they cannot be located, then to another individual, as allowed under superannuation law.
- (o) If your nomination is invalid (i.e. if it is completed incorrectly or further information is required), Bendigo Super will contact you to permit you to re-submit a valid nomination.
- (p) If you would like information about the taxation of death benefits, please refer to the 'How super is taxed' section of the Bendigo SmartStart Super Reference Guide.

Insurance Application and Personal Health Statement Form

Use this form to apply for Tailored cover or to increase your current amount of Tailored cover.

Bendigo SmartStart Super's insurer is TAL Life Limited ABN 70 050 109 450 AFSL 237848 (TAL).

General risks of replacing cover

Before deciding to replace any existing cover, you should compare and consider the policy terms and conditions to work out if the insurance cover is right for you. If you decide to replace existing cover you hold with another Superannuation Fund or insurer, please do not cancel your existing cover until we have told you that your application has been accepted, and on what terms. This is because there are some risks associated with replacing your existing cover, such as:

- If you have experienced any new health issues you may not be covered for these under your new cover
- A claim may have been accepted under your existing cover if the health issue did not exist when you first took out the existing cover
- You may also be subject to waiting periods before you can make a claim on the new cover

Your duty to take reasonable care

When you apply for insurance, you are treated as if you are applying for cover under an individual consumer insurance contract. A person who applies for cover under a consumer insurance contract has a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the Insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth.

This duty also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

If you do not meet your duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) there are a number of different remedies that may be available to the Insurer. They are intended to put the Insurer in the position it would have been in if your duty had been met. For example, the Insurer may:

- avoid the cover (treat it as if it never existed);
- vary the amount of the cover; or
- vary the terms of the cover.

Whether the Insurer can exercise one of these remedies depends on a number of factors, including:

- whether reasonable care was taken not to make a misrepresentation. This depends on all of the relevant circumstances;
- what the Insurer would have done if your duty had been met – for example, whether it would have offered cover, and if so, on what terms;
- whether the misrepresentation was fraudulent; and
- in some cases, how long it has been since the cover started.

Before any of these remedies are exercised, the Insurer will explain the reasons for its decision, how to respond and provide further information, and what else you can do if you disagree.

Guidance for answering the questions in this form

You are responsible for the information provided to the Insurer. When answering questions, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us before you respond.
- Answer every question.
- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- Review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Please note that there may be circumstances where the Insurer later investigates whether the information given to it was true. For example, it may do this when a claim is made.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, the Insurer may ask you whether the information that has been given as part of your application for insurance remains accurate or whether there has been a change to any of your circumstances. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us or the Insurer know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand your obligations and the questions that are being asked. Please contact us for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of obtaining insurance or answering any questions.

Please also let us know if you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason - we're here to help and can provide additional support.

All questions on this Insurance Application and Personal Health Statement Form are relevant as to whether or not TAL accepts the risk, and if so, on what terms. Consequently, all questions must be answered correctly and completely. Block letters should be used. A dot or dash is not acceptable. Please mark questions with an X where appropriate.
